Gifu is located almost in the center of Japan, with about 60% of its area covered by mountainous terrain. Gifu is known as the land of trees and mountains, with about 60% of its area covered by mountainous terrain. In this region of clear mountains and waters, a unique culture has emerged, nurturing traditional crafts and performing arts.

Gifu is also a land of fields and water. The clear streams of the Ibi River, Nagara River, Kiso River, and Hida River flow into the sea. Throughout this journey, these rivers have served as a source of life at times and, at other times, as a threat to it. Living in reverence of these waters has given rise to a distinct culture.

We hope to share the wonderful creations and ideas nurtured in this remarkable land with all of you.
